

Assignment Code

Updated September 2009

Introduction

The Assignment Code was updated by the Department of Education, Office of Educator Licensing & Development (OELD) in 2009, and posted to the OELD website: www.doe.in.gov/dps. Choose “Licensing” and then “Assignment Code.”

The Assignment Code is a “working document” reviewed and updated (as appropriate) to assist school administrators in the effective placement of licensed educators into teaching, school services or administrative assignments.

To use the Assignment Code:

Step One: Column one lists the course code.

Step Two: Column two lists the approved course title.

Step Three: Columns three through seven list the bulletin or rules under which licenses have been issued and the corresponding licensing areas for each. An individual must have one of the licensing areas on his/her valid license in order to be assigned to the course or to the school services or administration position indicated in column two.

The Assignment Code is correct and complete to the best of the Indiana Department of Education staff’s knowledge and ability. If you suspect errors or omissions, please contact the Office of Educator Licensing & Development (OELD) by telephone at 317-232-9010 (toll-free 1-866-542-3672) or by mail: Indiana Department of Education, Office of Educator Licensing & Development (OELD), 151 W. Ohio Street, Indianapolis, IN 46204. You may also e-mail suspected errors or omissions to rregnier@doe.in.gov.

Definitions & Special Instructions

How to Read a Bulletin 192 License

Through “grandfathering,” an individual who holds a Bulletin 192 license with 7-12 grade coverage can teach that subject in any grade K-12. In other words, if he/she has mathematics listed on the license for 7-12, he/she can teach any mathematics class in grades K-12.

Individuals who hold a Bulletin 192 elementary education license have been “grandfathered” to teach any subject in grades K-9, except special education.

Bulletin 94, Bulletin 192, Bulletin 400 & Rules 46-47 licenses used the term “General Elementary.” This term is equal to the term “Elementary” in the Assignment Code columns 3-6.

How to Read a Bulletin 2002 License

Licenses issued under Rules 2002 do not contain majors, minors, endorsements, or grade levels. Each license contains at least one content area. In addition, each license lists the school setting. The license will be valid only for the school setting listed on the license. An example of a Rules 2002 license is as follows:

Content Area:	Mathematics	School Setting:	High School Junior High/Middle School
----------------------	-------------	------------------------	--

In this example, the teacher is able to teach mathematics in a high school, junior high school, or middle school. He/she is not able to teach mathematics in an elementary school.

A person may have more than one content area listed on a license. The content areas may have distinct school settings. An example of this is as follows:

Content Area:	Mathematics	School Setting:	High School
Content Area:	Computer Education	School Setting:	High School Junior High/Middle School
Content Area:	Exceptional Needs: Mild Intervention	School Setting:	All School Settings

In this scenario, the teacher can teach mathematics only in a high school. However, he/she can teach computer education in a high school, junior high school, or middle school. In addition, the teacher can teach Mild Intervention at any school.

Elementary/Primary & Elementary/Intermediate Licenses

Under Rules 2002, school settings instead of grade levels are indicated on the license; however, for the purposes of this Assignment Code, Elementary/Primary is generally intended to mean grades K-3 and Elementary/Intermediate is generally intended to mean grades 4-6. As in previous rules and bulletins, anyone holding an Elementary/Primary license may teach any subject in grades K-3, regardless of the school setting, (except exceptional needs or special education) and anyone holding an Elementary/Intermediate license may teach any subject in grades 4-6, regardless of the school setting (except exceptional needs or special education).

Emergency Permits

Individuals who hold an Emergency Permit may teach only in the subject area/school setting listed on the permit and are subject to the guidelines listed in the Assignment Code.

Reciprocal Permits

Individuals from another state may be issued a Reciprocal Permit as of July 1, 2004, providing they have completed an approved program at an accredited college/university, have met all pre-requisites, and hold a valid license in another state. These licenses are valid for one year and are generally non-renewable.

Administration & Supervision Licenses

Under Bulletin 192, Bulletin 400, and Rules 46-47, Principal licenses are issued as either Elementary Administration & Supervision or Secondary Administration & Supervision. Elementary Administration & Supervision licenses under these rules allow a person to serve as a principal or assistant principal at an elementary school, junior high school, or middle school. Secondary Administration & Supervision licenses allow a person to serve as a principal or assistant principal at a high school, junior high school, or middle school. All other Administration & Supervision licenses under these rules are valid for all grades.

Under Rules 2002, all Administration & Supervision licenses will allow the holder to serve at any of the school settings. In other words, all Administration & Supervision licenses are considered P-12 licenses. Under Rules 2002, the Administrator is required to hold the appropriate license for the position, regardless of the title. For example, a person who is serving as an Assistant Principal, but whose title is “Administrative Assistant,” “Assistant to the Principal,” or any other title, will be required to hold the Building Level Administration license.

Occupational Specialist/Workplace Specialist

These licenses are career and technical education (vocational education) licenses. Occupational Specialist licenses cover all school settings. Workplace Specialist licenses are issued only for the High School Setting and Middle School Setting.

License Validity Dates

If a license or Reciprocal Permit expires on or after the first day of the academic school year, the license will be considered valid for the entire school year.
